THEATRE.—This evening the celebrated artists Mr. and Mrs. M. Bates will make their appearance in the dramatization of Dumas' Camille. In this character Mrs. Bates is celebrated, her rendition of the unfortunate heroine being acknowledged as a great histrionic success. Mr. Bates plays Armand Duval, and the balance of the cast rests on Messrs. Lindsay, Danne, Maguire, and others of the company. Miss Marie Marion also makes her first appearance. Altogether, it promises to be a performance worthy any city in the Union. The whole company have excellent reputations, and we trust that Mr. Maguire will be amply compensated for his enterprise. The theatre is newly fitted up, the dress circle being comfortably arranged and the seats neatly covered with blue and amber damask. The box-office is now facing Main street, and the approaches to the establishment are being greatly improved. It gratifies us to hear that seats are being disposed of fast, and that the result will be a grand success. Tickets can be had of Mr. Maguire, at the San Jose House, until four o'clock this afternoon.

ANOTHER LOCAL RAILROAD PROJECT.—It is proposed to extend the narrow-gauge railroad from Salt Lake to Bingham Canyon, by way of East Canyon, Dry Canyon, Camp Floyd and Tintic district, to this city. The cars are now running to Bingham Canyon, or soon will be, and the Walker Bros. and other heavy capitalists of Utah are the projectors. A gentleman of first-class financial reputation has gone to Europe to secure the necessary funds, and the friends of the enterprise feel confident that his mission will be a success. This narrow-gauge project must not be confounded with the one with which General Connor is connected. They are distinct and rival enterprises, and the management of each will bend every energy to surpass the other in rapidity of construction.

Mr. KENDALL's artesian well bill is receiving increased attention in this part of the State, many inquiries having been made of us regarding the probability of its becoming a law. If it passes a company will be immediately formed to sink for water in Dry Valley. It provides, we believe, for granting 640 acres to whoever will reach water by an artesian well within 500 feet; and the grant will be increased with increased depth. It is a measure of great local importance, and those who have ridiculed it have shown their ignorance of the resources and necessities of the country.

An exciting dog fight took place yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, on Meadow Valley street, a block or two above Cedar, which came near resulting in the owners being involved in an altercation. Angry and threatening words passed between them, and a collision was only prevented by the interposition of friends. Of course a large crowd gathered, many going away, after it was over, with expressions of disappointment on their countenances, because, evidently there were not three or four men killed.

PETITION IN BEHALF OF PENSIONERS.—A petition is in circulation in town to have the pension bill now pending in Congress embrace old Mexican war claimants from the end of that war. If they are entitled to pensions at all, they are entitled to them the full period of disability. The change proposed is reasonable, and we hope the prayer of the petition will be granted.

A NEVADA INCORPORATION.—The first mining company operating in this district to apply for incorporation under the Nevada Incorporation Act has just forwarded to the Secretary of State the necessary preliminary certificates. When the incorporation is complete we will give full particulars.

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT.

What Has Been and Is Being Done in that Line in Southeastern Nevada. It Is Our Best Guarantee of Permanent Prosperity.

Silver production is and probably ever will be the specialty of our industries, the superstructure on which, at least for a generation, must rest all the other great material interests. But fortunate are we, indeed, that along with our seemingly inexhaustible and wonderfully rich mineral deposits, we also have extensive tracts of cultivable and grazing lands. Civilized man can never become reconciled to a permanent home in a region of rugged mountains and sterile plains, let it be ever so rich in deposits of the precious metals. Fruit, grain and flowers, in possession or prospect, are so inseparably connected with the idea of domestic happiness, that it is never expected to be permanently enjoyed in a country without them. Even with the most sordid, the feeling of incomplete existence where the soil refuses to give forth the natural sustenance of the race, is an instinctive impulse. Family relations, the district school, the church, the college, hold elementary relations to social progress, are essential parts of it, where the cultivation of the soil is the first or one of the leading industries; but they seem to be accidental results, or exotic in character, in communities held together by the temporary excitement and hazardous enterprises of mining industry solely. We cannot over-estimate, therefore, the importance of the agricultural development that has been and is being made in Southeastern Nevada. It stimulates a better public spirit with all classes. It is proving to those now here, and within the next two years will be conclusive evidence to the outside world, that we can successfully foster and build up all the institutions of a high civilization. It is a substantial promise that the rush of fortune-seekers here will be followed, as it has been in some of California's delightful valleys, by homes of embellishment and refinement. There are now within a radius of 100 miles of Pioche, excluding the Mormon settlement of St. George, about 150 farms; some are already under a fair state of cultivation, and they all will be before the close of the year. They lie all around us—north, south, east and west. And the agricultural resources of the country are just beginning to attract attention. By the fall of 1873 we will not be injured if Brigham Young's St. George followers adopt the non-intercourse policy he has dictated to them, for we shall then be independent of Mormon as well as California importations. In the south is the magnificent valley of the Muddy; to the north the fine valleys of Spring and Snake Creeks; and in the west Steptoe, White River and Pahranagat. They embrace tens of thousands of acres of soil which, under our semi-tropical suns, will produce as bountiful and varied harvests as any lands on earth crossed by the same parallels. The time is not distant when they will all be made to blossom as the rose. New locations are being made almost daily. The agricultural development we consider our best guarantee of permanent prosperity.

DEAD HOGS.—About half-way between the Catholic cemetery and the Floral mill there are from twenty-five to thirty dead hogs—some of them quite large. Crows are flying around these carcasses in great numbers. Whether they were maliciously killed, or committed suicide in dread of the approaching New Year of the Chinamen we are unable to say; but we are certain that the sooner they are hauled off to a distance or buried the better it will be for the community.

SEMI-BITUMINOUS COAL.—We have been shown, and witnessed the burning, of some excellent semi-bituminous coal, from the mines of the Wahsatch Company, about 90 miles east of here, in Utah. It burns with a clear, bright flame, leaving behind white ashes, free of "clinker." The deposit now being worked is twelve feet in thickness. Preparations are being made to deliver it in Pioche in large quantities, as soon as the roads become passable.

HOMER S. KING, general traveling agent of Wells, Fargo & Co., and one of their oldest employees, who formerly had charge of their banking business at Virginia and Hamilton, is now in Pioche on business connected with the company. He meets hosts of friends throughout this State, wherever he goes. He has been in the service of Wells, Fargo & Co. from early boyhood, having been promoted through all the different offices to the highest and most responsible.

MAGNETIC AND HERMETIC IRON ORES. Specimens of these ores may be seen at the office of Mr. J. R. Duff, Meadow Valley street. The hermetic assays $23 in silver. Both are of the purest quality. They are from the iron mines in Iron Mountain district, 75 or 80 miles east of here, and on line with the Bullionville narrow-gauge railroad, which, we are promised, will be extended to them within two years, at the furthest.

Mr. GEORGE BOOTH, who has been so successful in the treatment of epizootic, can be seen by all desiring his services at the stable of Cinque Barnes. He has been equally successful in the treatment of the secondary or dropsical stage. Mr. Booth has with him unquestionable endorsements.

OUT ON THE STREET.—George McKean, so terribly mangled, about four weeks ago, by a blast in the Peacock mine, was out on the street yesterday. One eye is gone entirely, but there is hope that he will have partial sight from the other.

PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.—Mr. Perry, of Murray's Creek, invested $7,000 last fall in farming enterprise, and his income has since been between $14,000 and $15,000. Murray's Creek is in Patterson District, 90 miles north of Pioche.

COUNTY SURVEYOR SCHOFFMANN has been engaged by the County Commissioners to survey and plat the town site, with a view of having it immediately entered under the Congressional law.

Dr. BERNSTEIN assisted Dr. Lee in the amputation referred to in our last.

ANOTHER GREAT EXCITEMENT PREDICTED.

Those best informed in regard to the mining developments and prospects of this district predict that the coming summer it will be the scene of a greater mining excitement than at any previous time in its history. The prediction is based on the tremendous amounts of high grade ores out and ready for crushing, and the improved condition of some mines which have as yet scarcely been heard of in the stock markets. We believe the prediction will be verified.

A SAMPLER.—An individual purporting to be the proprietor of a grocery in some of the outside camps had sampled liquors in various houses, and was doing a driving business in that line at the establishment of Alex. Brown, through a polite young man recently from the East, who had just been employed, when he was requested by the proprietor to bring in his leg before pushing his investigations further. He is through sampling at that house.

We learn that Senator Cole, of California, has introduced a land bill in Congress more suitable to the physical peculiarities of the Pacific Coast than the existing homestead and pre-emption laws. Under it 160 acres of farming land, 640 acres of grazing land, and 80 acres of timber land, may be acquired by the same claimant. This is a measure of obvious justice to mountain pre-emptors and homestead claimants.

The law against vagrancy should be enforced here. A fellow stopped a gentleman on Main street, last night, and asked for a dollar, saying he was hungry. The gentleman proposed to take him to a restaurant and pay for a meal. This proposition made him sink off. He was doubtless in quest of tarantula juice.

The donkeys are now enjoying almost a monopoly of the wood carrying business. It is as much as horses recovering from the epizootic can do to wade through the streets and pull their tails after them.

DRAPE IN MOURNING.—The truck house of the Lightner Hook and Ladder Company is draped in mourning, in respect to the memory of Edward Donahoe, of which company he was a member.

The mud is getting deeper, but as it is delightfully thin and splashy, pedestrians safely and easily. Some crossings are very dangerous for dwarfs and juveniles.

TO ARRIVE TO-DAY.—The following passengers left Hamilton yesterday for Pioche, who will arrive on to-day's stage: Alec Celler, Wm. DeKay, John McFarland, W. A. Jones, E. Terry, J. Clippson.

In the case of G. B. McLane vs. P. J. Cullen, tried in the District Court yesterday, the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff. The jury were out about an hour.

BE BRIEF.—Communications will not be admitted on this page over five inches long, unless on subjects of great general importance.

A WAGON-LOAD of carpenters went out to Highland yesterday to work on the new quartz mill being erected at that place.

FAST FREIGHT.—The Eureka Sentinel, of February 8th, says Pritchard is now receiving freight at that place for Palestine.

JUDGE LOVELL has gone to Washington county, Utah, to secure valuable local interests.

MORE SNOW last night, about nine o'clock—just enough to veil the ugly face of the mud.

THE demi-monde had another masquerade last night. At a Meadow Valley street saloon.

H. WARD has just received a large invoice of furniture.
